

Adrian Warner
Director - Perth Redbacks

Relationship to Redbacks

Adrian has coached both domestically (with North Perth at Loftus) and WABL at Redbacks for several years and his son Finn also plays for Redbacks at WABL level.

Qualifications:

Adrian has a Bachelor of Economics degree from the University of WA.

Background:

Adrian lived for a year in Japan as an exchange student prior to university and has spent most of his professional career in the WA State Public sector with 20 years senior executive experience including as CEO of WorkCover WA and his current position of Road Safety Commissioner. He also spent time in Canberra working as a policy advisor to senior Cabinet Ministers in the Rudd and Gillard governments and later in Sydney consulting to a multi-national pharmaceutical company.

Adrian's basketball journey started in the 1970's as a teenager at Churchlands SHS (prior to the Wildcats and the SBL) playing against Perth in the District Basketball competition at the old Perry Lakes Stadium and continued to play regularly in mid-week competitions until about 8 years ago. Prior to joining Redbacks he coached domestically and at WABL level with the Perry Lakes Hawks.

Adrian is a keen recreational cyclist and has participated for several years in the Dams Challenge and twice in the Youth Focus 'Ride for Youth' charity ride from Albany to Perth. For the past few years each February he has proudly supported his daughter Tully who has so far completed 2x teams and 3 x solo Rotto Channel swims.

Adrian is married to Carmen, lives in Mt Hawthorn and each year looks forward optimistically to watching St Kilda win another premiership. Apparently, he makes a mean risotto.
