Welcome back to the web Redbacks!

It was obviously a great night last week at home with both the women's & men's sides notching their first wins of the season. The men had an absolute nail biter of a win, whilst the ladies strung together three quarters of Redbacks basketball to close out a talented East Perth side. The Atmosphere in the Oasis was buzzing.

The injection of Anneli was evident in the energy & pace we were able to sustain last week. Her natural flair is a great fit for how we'd liked to play which will only enhance & compliment the existing playing group. Each week the buy-in, understanding & confidence continues to grow with the wider squad. Their potential ceiling as a team is a really exciting prospect. This weekend we also welcome Natalie Chou to the Redbacks. Nat is one of the most fundamentally talented players you'll see competing in the NBL1 West & no doubt will be a Redback favorite with the fans.

This weekend is the second week of a gruelling run of games in our fixture. We face 4 double headers over a 5 week span including a trip to Kalgoorlie to mix things up in between. Last night we faced a talented Perry Lakes Hawks team & tonight we welcome a revamped Eastern Suns to the web. Marcus Bardill has put together a talented group of players in his first year that on their night, will give any team headaches. Slowing the back court duo of Liv Berry & Ella Fotu, whilst limiting the impact of Tiahna Sears & McGhee-Pleasant will be key.

Continue bringing the energy & making the web a fortress for your teams! It makes a huge difference!

NIXY'S NEWS

WITH MNBL1 HEAD COACH
CHARLES NIX

Hello Redbacks

What an exciting night it was last time we played at home. I want to send a huge congratulations to Tim and the women's team on their first win of the season, and Tim's first as head coach of his beloved Redbacks. I'm really excited to see this team continue to move up the standings with the addition of Anneli Maley and Natalie Chou.

I feel like our Men's team took some big steps last weekend with our style of play and our chemistry. As I've mentioned previously we always knew that it would take some time with so many new pieces, so thank you for your patience and support while we are working through that. We still have a lot of growth in this group, which is an exciting prospect.

Tonight is the second leg of another double header, after playing the Hawks last night. We have a really heavy schedule over the next few weeks with a lot of games, with all of our doubles in the first half of the season. The Eastern Suns are a talented team with some great experience in games record holder Seb Salinas, Rob Huntington and Reece Maxwell, on top of that with great scoring threats in Nelson and Michaels and the addition of the exciting kiwi Jack Exeter.

We know that to get to where we need to by the end of the season we have to continue to improve every week, this competition is so talented that you can't afford to take a night off so we are excited and ready for the challenge in front of us tonight.

Keep on cheering, the WEB has been awesome to start the year and we really appreciate the support.

Cheers
Nixy
